This one (1) day workshop is designed for health care professionals who as part of their role may respond to critical incidents and be involved in the support of others who have been impacted by the event. This course provides a framework for professionals to follow throughout the process. The course can be tailor made to suit the needs of an organisation or ran as a public workshop (dates and price for public workshop as follows).

Topics Include

- Understanding the psychological effects of grief, trauma and stress
- Self awareness and self management
- Preparing yourself to speak to the Emergency Contact
- Boundaries and Self Care
- Dependency
- Support Skills and Strategies
- Post incident
- Referral resources and additional support services
